AOSpine Principles Seminar— Research

July 31 – August 1, 2015

Amman, Jordan

RESEARCH

AOSpine—the leading global academic community for innovative education and research in spine care, inspiring lifelong learning and improving patients' lives.

Dear Colleagues

On behalf of AOSpine Middle East we would like to welcome you to the first AOSpine Principles Seminar on Research in Jordan.

Following the success of last year's workshop in Dubai, our intention is to continue to build and maintain a strong collaborative interdisciplinary research culture among our members in the Middle East.

We are confident that your participation in this two-day interactive workshop will be productive as well as enjoyable, as your confidence and skills increase in this field.

We wish you a successful course, and hope that your interactive engagement will foster new friendships that lead to future collaboration in research.

Sincerely

Muhammed Assous

Course Description

This two-day interactive course introduces the concepts of research methodology to healthcare professionals. It addresses different topics in research, such as how to generate research question, do literature search, analyze and critical appraise it.

This educational event, taught in a modular format, offers you a challenging learning experience with interactive sessions facilitated by faculty teaching in their field of expertise.

Comprised of evidence based lectures, practical exercises, and discussions, this workshop will provide ample time for discussion between faculty and participants.

It is our aims that at the end of course each participant will leave the workshop with a research proposal.

Target Participants

This course is targeted at surgeons and other specialists with and interest in learning about how to plan, create and submit a research paper.

Course Objectives

By the end of this course, the participants will be able to:

1. Identify the importance of clinical research and formulate study question;
2. Formulate a detailed plan of conducting a literature search;
3. Pose a research question that is answerable by a systematic review;
4. Know sampling techniques and data collection procedure;
5. Know about validity and biases in research;
6. List different types of research studies with its advantages and disadvantages;
7. Understand the basic concepts of statistics.

AOSpine Middle East Education

AOSpine welcomes the participation of our partners in supporting our efforts to deliver education of the highest quality. Industry partners agree to the following at this educational event.

1. Introduction

1. This event is for the benefit of the AOSpine community
2. The objective is to offer the highest quality education in spine surgery

2. Academic Independence

3. This event must be free from commercial bias or influence
4. The content of this event will focus solely on the teaching of medical principles, knowledge, skills and generic techniques
5. The event chairpersons are solely responsible for determining faculty, topic and program
6. Our industry partners provide logistical support, including workshop material and technical support

3. Branding

7. The AOSpine logo and associated imagery must be the only visible corporate branding
8. Commercial advertising—including but not limited to promotional materials, merchandizing items and gifts—is not permitted
9. Our industry partners' logistical support may be mentioned in the event program, but without any use of logos

4. Product Usage

10. Products may only be visible in a neutral setting, ie, free from any corporate branding
11. Products may only be displayed in areas as defined by the event chairpersons; products should never be displayed in lecture theatres, and in principle neither in reception areas nor in food and beverage areas
12. Any practical workshops must take place in an area clearly designated as a workshop area, and clearly separate from any lecture, discussion group, social or rest areas
13. Such workshops may only be run by members of this event's faculty
14. Surgical technique manuals may be made available to participants upon request

5. Venue & Personnel

15. This event may not be held at the premises of any industry partner
16. The presence of industry partners is solely to provide discrete background logistical support
17. The ratio of each industry partner's representatives to participants at this event may not exceed 1:10
18. Industry partners may join meals and breaks, but may not use these as sales opportunities
19. The aggressive use of this event as a sales opportunity is not permitted

All logistics handled by partner representatives must be conducted in accordance with this and with the approval of AOSpine (event chairpersons and the AOSpine Middle East division), to ensure the event's academic independence.
